Vintage Tunes

SAT 6/5

Keith Chelm has connections. After sampling the Cabernets and Chardonnays at the inaugural Wesfest Jazz & Blues Festival last year, the BackUp Band keyboardist thought: How can my guys get a gig here? A few phone calls later, and the networking paid off. The band shares the bill Saturday with seven local blues giants, including Mr. Downchild, Blues DeVille, and the Tri-Tones. "I heard the Tri-Tones last year, and they were just great," Chelm says.

But the festival is more than just 10 hours of acoustic Delta and Chicago-style blues in the open-air Mapleleaf Theater; wine connoisseurs can check out the latest offerings in an indoor tasting room. "And you thought we only drank Rolling Rock and Jim Beam," Chelm says. Festivities start at 1 p.m. at Harpersfield Vineyard, 6387 State Route 307 in Geneva. Tickets are $16 and $20; call 440-466-4739. -- Cris Glaser
